

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSIONS AND SUGGESTION

A. Conclusion

Based on the data found in the research that has been conducted on this "English for Nusantara" for 7 grade textbook, the researcher concludes the following:

1. Representation of Islamic education concept values that are narrowed down to moral education is found in this study; there are 8 out of 9 representations of values from the formulated with a total 50 representations, namely: Patience with 9 representation, Grateful with 9 representation, Fulfilling Trust with 10 representation, Honesty with 8 representation, Shyness with 1 representation, Ta'awun with 6 representation, Tawadhu with 2 representation, and Doing Good to Friend with 5 representation. The value representation that was not found was Doing Good to Neighbor.
2. Based on the content analysis that has been conducted, the representation of these values is displayed implicitly with a portion of 30 representations or 60%. In comparison, the representation of explicitly conveyed values is only 20 representations or 40%.

B. Suggestion

Based on the description of the data findings and discussion of this study, the researcher would like to provide suggestions to several parties referred to in the Research Significances:

1. Teacher
Teachers using this "English for Nusantara" for 7th-grade textbooks can explain the Islamic educational values in this book because most values are implicitly described.
2. Student

Students who learn using this book can practice the Islamic education values contained in this book in their daily activities.

3. Policymakers

Policymakers, especially writers, can provide more representations of Islamic education values and explicit ways of conveying them so that students can understand more quickly in the following textbook that will be released for the upcoming curriculum.

4. Other Researcher

Other researchers can further examine the representation of different values that may be contained in this book so that it can be a consideration for policymakers when compiling books for students, or the other researchers can use these values to research other English textbooks that are widely used in school or English textbook that used by the above grade.
