

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

This chapter summarizes the result and all arguments of the research as well as presents their limitations together. Besides, it spells out recommendations for future research and current practice.

A. Conclusions

Based on the results and discussions aforementioned in the previous chapter, the researcher would like to summarize the following conclusions:

1. The implementation of Project-based learning occurred by following Project-based learning instructions. Step by step carried out by teacher through Google classroom. Furthermore, Project-based learning gives good impact on the students speaking ability. The students were more confident to practice their English speaking skills and increased their learning achievements. It was showed by the students' final project comprises the video of interview especially focused on self introduction. The students started to practice their speaking ability without worried on their mispronunciation, incorrect grammar, and other speaking problems they have before the implementation of Project-based learning on their English online learning.
2. The teaching-learning process moves into online system because of Covid-19 pandemic. It becomes a challenge for both teacher and students. The teacher should use the right method to attract students' interest in learning and the students also should realize how important education for their future so teaching-learning process can be occurred well. Related to the implementation of Project-based learning, less understanding became the students' challenge because they have to understand the material by themselves without explained by the teacher in face-to-face meetings. Bad signal and limited quota also become the reason they missing information related online learning activity. Whether the teacher's challenge was how to motivate the students and try to attract the students' interest in learning. Teacher should be extra pay attention in order to make the online teaching-learning process still occurred effectively.

B. Recommendations

Based on the conclusion above, the researcher gives some suggestions for English teacher and further research as follow:

1. For English teacher

Being a teacher has a big responsibility to educate the students morally and materially. The teacher should be selective in deciding a teaching method to meet the students' needs and facilitate them during teaching-learning process and Project-based learning is an alternative method that can be used by the teacher to encourage students' self-confidence in speaking ability.

2. For further research

This research is expected to be useful and inspire further research to conduct a study related to English speaking skills. Likewise, they are also hoped to find more right method learning to improve students' speaking ability or combine Project-based learning with other methods.
