CHAPTER V
CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

A. Conclusions

After the researcher carried out the research on analysis of figurative language in I'm the Best Muslim movie, the researcher come up with several conclusions related to the research results and the conclusions as follows:

1. The use of figurative language that is expressed in I'm the Best Muslim movie was found, and further, there were seventeen of figurative languages expressions and several types of figurative language that were used such as simile, metaphor, personification, synecdoche, repetition, hyperbole, irony and paronomasia.

2. The use of the type of figurative language that widely used in I'm the Best Muslim movie was also found, the researcher calculated the amount of data and resulted that simile was the most widely used type of figurative language, followed by other types of figurative language such as hyperbole, personification, repetition, paronomasia, metaphor, metonymy, synecdoche, and irony.

B. Recommendations

After stating the conclusions above, the researcher gives some suggestions for educational institution and future research as follows:

1. Research has been conducted on analysis of figurative language in I'm the Best Muslim movie, and it contains many types of figurative language that used therein, thus this movie is suitable as a source or medium of learning figurative languages to get additional knowledge about figurative languages.

2. This research can offer assistance as reference to the future researchers who want to analyse, I'm the Best Muslim movie for further research. Moreover, this study only focuses on the use and the most dominant used of types of figurative language and hence there are other issues that can be researched by future researchers.