

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

A. Conclusions

Based on the result of the data analysis, the writer concludes as follows:

1. The problems that experienced by the students in mastering vocabulary are students cannot pronounce vocabulary well, students have difficulty in spelling words correctly, students cannot deciding the meaning of words precisely, students have a lack of vocabulary so students cannot make good sentences, students fell confused to arrange sentence in English. On the other hand, students' lack of motivation to learn is also an obstacle in mastering vocabulary, lack of motivation to learn makes their enthusiasm for learning decrease. Students are lazy in memorizing vocabulary. Lack of learning facilities such as using dictionary and tools as gadget that can support their English learning so that they are unable or difficult to understand the words in English.
2. There are several ways that students usually used to overcome problems in vocabulary mastery such as using a dictionary in every English lesson, often practicing speaking with friends in English, making vocabulary notes and the memorize it, searching in internet when findings vocabulary that they have never heard before, listening to songs and watching movies in English, and make learning English are fun and enjoyable so that the learning process will feel easy to understand.

B. Recommendations

Based on the result of the research, the researcher puts some recommendations to the following parties:

1. The Students

The researcher hopes that the students can increase their vocabulary mastery so that in the future it can be better. Considering the results of the research showing that the ability of students at seventh grade of Islamic private school in mastering vocabulary still needs to be improved.

2. The Teacher

The researcher has some suggestions, especially for the English teacher in teaching English covering all skills (Speaking, Listening, Reading, and Writing). To improve students' ability in mastering vocabulary, it is recommended that the teacher choose the right techniques and method based on the students' needs and wants. In addition, teacher should often encourage student's motivation in every teaching and learning process in mastering vocabulary to the students.

3. Other Researchers

The researcher believe that this research is still incomplete and imperfect, and it is needed further discussion by the next researcher. The further researchers should pay more attention to students' problems in mastering English vocabulary because as a result of this research shows that students are too weak in memorizing words, no dictionary, difficult in pronunciation, spelling, and words meaning. However, this research can be used as a reference for further research.

